

Ester Kingsley

I'm Zambian born of South African parents. I attended a public Orthodox Catholic school both at primary and secondary school level before coming to the United Kingdom to study banking and finance.

As a student I worked part time in a care home and loved it so much that I decided to pursue a career in care. I have worked in the care industry for the past 15 years providing leadership and caring skills to staff and clients having specialised in dementia care at both Bradford University and Middlesex University – where I mainly concentrated in specialising and learning's in Alzheimer's Disease, Parkinson's Disease, Huntingdon Disease, HIV related Dementia, Crutzteid-Jacob Disease, and people with Down's syndrome & Dementia.

I have also worked extensively with volunteers and have in the past won an award in volunteer management when I worked for Jewish Care, one of the largest Jewish charities in Europe. I started a Law degree (part-time) at Buckingham University in January 2012. Away from work and studies I enjoy travelling and equally enjoy sitting at home!
