

Patience Clotey

My name is Patience and I am the founder of Eating4aChange and I'm passionate about food and healthy eating. Eating4aChange is a weight management and healthy eating program specially designed for Africans and people of African descent. The programme aims to provide advice and support to its clients using a combination of African and western foods to manage their weight.

